The Lyndon Group, LLC Expands Team and SEC Reporting Abilities with New Project Manager Patrice Brand

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif., March 1, 2007—The Lyndon Group, LLC (LG), a premier accounting and financial management consulting firm for Fortune 500 and emerging growth companies, today announced that it has added to its team industry veteran Patrice Brand to serve as project manager. Brand's extensive experience in finance and accounting in several industries is expected to further strengthen LG's abilities in SEC reporting for its growing client base.

Recognized for its exceptional business solutions and customer service, LG provides for national and international companies with Sarbanes-Oxley compliance/readiness, project management, financial consulting, general accounting, due diligence, information technology services and personnel placement.

"We welcome Patrice Brand to LG to expand the company's knowledge base and expertise during a time at which we have been experiencing dramatic growth in the realm of SEC reporting," said Kenneth L. Jones, CPA and managing director for LG. "Our pool of qualified professionals are experienced in SEC reporting projects ranging from IPOs and reverse mergers to recurring 10Ks and 10Qs, and we expect that LG will grow even stronger in this area with Patrice on board."

Having accumulated several years of experience in the industries of manufacturing, printing, publishing and software, Brand brings to LG the expertise to manage various facets of accounting and financial reporting. She is skilled in SEC filings, FASB research and implementation, audits, budgets, forecasts, consolidations and currency translations, among other activities.

Known by colleagues and past companies for her powerful influence and ability to maximize efficiency by streamlining labor-intensive processes with her development of automated solutions, Brand played a key management role in taking Cherokee International Corporation public. As corporate senior manager of financial planning and analysis at communications powerhouse R.R. Donnelley & Sons, Brand led the international implementation of SFAS 133, a new comprehensive financial accounting standard

“Patrice Brand’s impressive history showcases her industry intelligence and leadership qualities,” said Jones. “We have very high expectations for what she can do for the team at LG.”

Brand’s other prior companies include USA Today, Zellweger Analytics, Inc. and Maxtec International Corporation. She most recently served as vice president and controller at NTN Buzztime, Inc., a $50 million producer of interactive entertainment, before joining LG.
